SingleThread

A Seasonal Approach to Intentional Cooking, Farming, and Hospitality

Kyle and Katina Connaughton

The long-awaited book from SingleThread, the three-Michelin-starred restaurant, farm, and inn championing seasonality, locality, and sustainability.

THE PITCH

- MASSIVE CRITICAL ACCLAIM AND ACCOLADES: SingleThread has three Michelin stars, was ranked in “The World’s 50 Best Restaurants 2024,” and has won multiple James Beard Awards.
- PRESSWORTHY AUTHORS: Dedicated write-ups in NYT, Wall Street Journal, Food & Wine, Wine Spectator, and more. International reviews hit The Financial Times (UK), Good Food (Australia), and The Peak (Singapore).
- LARGE PLATFORM: 115k followers on Instagram for their main account, plus another 3,500 combined followers of the SingleThread Farm Store and SingleThread Wine Shop.
- UNIQUE PROMOTIONAL OPPORTUNITIES: Kyle and Katina will sell the book at special events for the book at the restaurant and farm, as well as at their many annual speaking engagements.
- IMMERSIVE SINGLETHREAD EXPERIENCE: The book is an in-depth tour of SingleThread, featuring seasonal recipes as well as their approach to farming, hospitality, and design.

THE BOOK

At SingleThread, each meal tells the story of the day. Each menu, and every dish on it, is designed to reflect that specific moment in time and to showcase the ingredients grown on the SingleThread farm. But the approach taken by Kyle and Katina Connaughton (SingleThread’s chef and farmer co-founders) does not end with a simple commitment to seasonality and locality. Instead, it involves a nuanced, considered approach that balances this celebration of local ingredients with a holistic view of what constitutes good food systems—including the need to support artisans, preserve the expertise developed by generations of specialists, and develop climate-resilient approaches to farming and other forms of food production.

SingleThread offers a deep dive into what truly seasonal cooking looks like and into the mindful approach Kyle and Katina take to every aspect of their work, from their warm hospitality to the meticulous design philosophy behind the restaurant and inn. With stunning photography and intricate illustrations, the book offers a tour of the farm and restaurant while also delving into the team’s unique agricultural methods, the techniques and recipes used in the SingleThread kitchen, the way the farm and kitchen teams coordinate on a daily basis, their philosophy of hospitality, the importance of their relationships with other producers and artisans—and the unique love story that started with two teenagers at a punk show and grew into the partnership that made all of this possible in the first place.

Simple Kitchen Magic

Whole-Food Recipes and Remedies for a Holistic Life: A Cookbook

Rebekah Moyer

Build a holistic, health-minded kitchen with over 100 nourishing recipes for healthy meals and natural remedies, from Rebekah "Ebby" Moyer

THE PITCH

- 100+ SIMPLE NUTRITION-PACKED RECIPES: Rebekah's whole-food recipes, from Kabocha Squash Butter Chicken to Seed Cycling Bliss Balls, deliver on flavor and nutrition.
- WARM ADVICE FOR A HEALTHY LIFESTYLE: This book includes advice and recipes for balancing hormones, supporting adrenal health, healing common ailments, and more.
- GROWING, ENGAGED PLATFORM: Rebekah has grown her following from 1M to 3M people across platforms in less than 2 years.
- AN ACCESSIBLE "CRUNCHY" COOKBOOK: Other herbal, "witchy" cookbooks include recipes with hard-to-find or foraged ingredients. This book emphasizes food as medicine with easy, approachable recipes.
- AN OMNIVOROUS WHOLE-FOOD BOOK: Most whole-food books are plant based. Rebekah includes animal products in her recipes, so this book appeals to every kind of eater.

THE BOOK

On her popular social media channels, Rebekah Moyer makes simple, nourishing meals with accessible, whole-food ingredients. Not only are her recipes delicious, but they are also incredibly nutrient dense—in a single video, she'll make kefir for gut-healthy probiotics, quick-pickled carrots as a fiber source for estrogen detox, kabocha squash for thyroid-friendly vitamin A, and more.

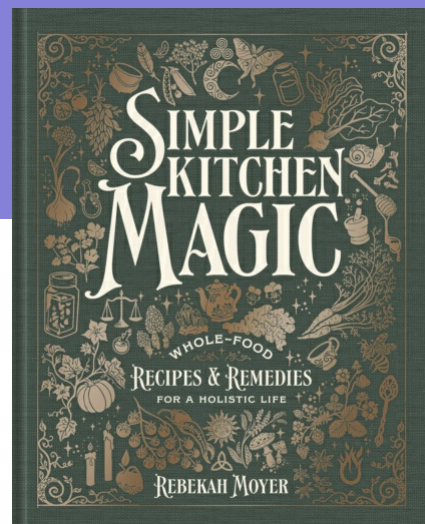

Simple Kitchen Magic is Rebekah's delicious recipes and warm, comforting nutritional advice in book form. The simple, whole-food recipes—like Curried Turkey Meatball Soup, Harissa Roasted Eggplant, and Black Bean Brownies—highlight functional ingredients to help you embrace food as medicine for a healthy lifestyle.

Simple Kitchen Magic will leave you feeling like health is attainable, nutrition is simple, and cooking from scratch is doable. With whimsical, illustrated spreads on topics like adrenal health and menstrual cycle syncing, recipes for healing tinctures and basic kitchen remedies, this is the essential first book for any wannabe homesteader, ancestral eater, or cottagecore dreamer.

THE AUTHOR

- STRESS-FREE DINNERS, FOR EVERYONE: Clever, family-friendly recipes turn the 5pm panic into a plan, supporting the 60% of parents overwhelmed by daily cooking (Mintel)

THE BOOK

"Annie's recipes are simply delicious" Gill Meller

"A Home-cooked Year is a triumph. Annie's recipes are thoughtful, dependable, and delicious" Maunika Gowardhan, author of *Curry

"Filled with accessible ingredients and recipes for real family life, Annie's collection is a celebration of comforting favourites, simple midweek meals, and delicious dishes made to bring people together" Cherie Denham, author of *The Irish Kitchen

This book is for anyone who has opened the fridge and sighed, who has felt the pinch of a stubborn budget and the craving for something delicious, nourishing, and joyful.

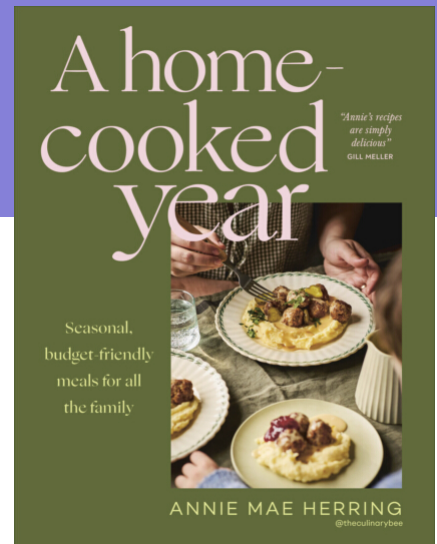

Annie Mae Herring turns the 5pm panic into a plan with dishes built around what's in season, what's affordable, and meals that will be eaten and enjoyed by everyone at the table, including the kids.

With seasonal shopping lists and meal plans that tackle midweek cravings and weekend appetites, as well as notes on how to batch, repurpose, and plan for the week, Annie brings the joy back into home cooking.

THE AUTHOR

Annie Mae Herring is a recipe developer, food stylist, and videographer with over five years of experience turning bubbling pots and golden bakes into stories that travel far beyond the kitchen. She's best known online for her hit series #7Mealsfor50 and #TheslesKitchen, where she dives into the history and heart of English, Irish, Scottish, and Welsh food to prove (once and for all) that the food of these Isles deserves to be celebrated, not mocked. When she is not behind the stove or camera, Annie is usually being pestered by her three cats, two children, meaning the kitchen is often the only place shes gets any peace and quiet.

Edimentals

Edible Plants to Grow & Enjoy

Huw Richards

Edimentals* (a portmanteau of "edible" and "ornamental") showcases multi-tasking plants that both look beautiful and taste delicious

THE PITCH

- AUTHOR REACH: Huw Richards, the Sunday Times bestselling author, has 1 million followers across YouTube and Instagram, alongside written columns
- 100 PLANTS: Profiles of vegetables, herbs, flowers, trees, and shrubs show how to grow 100 crops while illustrated planting combinations show ways to grow plants together
- GAP IN THE MARKET: Edimentals is a trending topic across gardening media, yet there is very little direct competition
- SMALL SPACE: Edimentals are perfect for small spaces as they fulfill two functions: looking beautiful and being tasty to eat, many are also ideal for container growing

THE BOOK

The holy grail of plants, “edimentals” are edible, ornamental plants that taste just as good as they look

Huw Richards shows you how to grow 100 edible plants with fabulous flowers or foliage, so you can create a beautiful and productive garden or pot display.

Spanning vegetables, herbs, flowers, trees, and shrubs, discover why edimental plants are the multi-tasking heroes of any garden, delivering on visual impact, attracting beneficial insects, and producing tasty crops.

Alongside essential growing information, planting plans illustrate some of Huw's favourite plant combinations to give you inspiration to replicate in your own edimental garden.

From the deep red, drooping flowerheads of amaranth (that produce sweet and nutty seeds perfect for topping porridge or soup) to the bright pop of dahlia flowers (to garnish salads), Edimentals is full of exciting new ways to enjoy a thriving, productive, and beautiful garden.

THE AUTHOR

Huw Richards is a permaculturalist, digital creator, and co-director for Regenerative Media based in mid-west Wales. Aged twelve, he created his own YouTube channel about growing your own food. He now has over 900,000 YouTube subscribers and his videos have collectively been viewed over 110 million times. Botanica Erotica

A Compendium of Plants That Are Naughty by Nature

Holly Farrell

Delve between the sheets to learn about the romance and rudeness of plants

THE PITCH

- PLANTS UNCENSORED: uncover the secret love lives of plants, packaged in a beautiful and sumptuous design
- PERFECT FOR GIFTING: impulse or till-point purchase ideal for the Christmas market, for plant lovers as well as anyone interested in gardens or the outdoors
- FIFTY SHADES MEETS BOTANY: Laced with fascinating facts, tantalising tales, and baffling biology, this compendium uncovers plants' sexy secrets like never before
- ACCESSIBLE SCIENCE: fascinating stories on plant reproduction are grounded in the science of botany

THE BOOK

Uncover the romance and revealing nature of plants

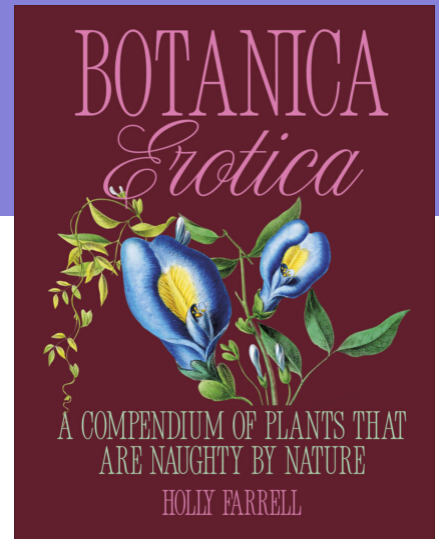

A beautiful collection of 30 plant stories, Botanica Erotica celebrates a rude name, a suggestive appearance, or unusual reproduction antics. Illustrated and laced with fascinating facts, tantalising tales, and baffling biology, this compendium brings the private life of plants alive.

Whether explaining how "Shaggy solider" or "Sticky Willy" got their names, or the importance of catfishing for pollination, Botanica Erotica explains how sex is at the heart of plant reproduction. But there is a serious side too, revealing the interconnected world of humans and plants. Ever wondered why both plants and humans use scent for attraction? Or considered how "popping the cherry" ever entered our vernacular?

Whether you're enticed by their looks or intrigued by their names, you'll want to know more – and return for a second date with these fascinating plants.

You're Not in Trouble

The ADHD Guide to Building Healthy, Connected Relationships

Kristen Carder

An empowering self-coaching guide to help ADHDers understand, repair, and build healthy relationships from the creator of the popular I Have ADHD podcast

THE PITCH

- GROWING PLATFORM: Kristen's has grown her Instagram following to 137k, but her largest audience is for her podcast, I Have ADHD, which has over 9.6M downloads in 100+ countries, 187k–279k monthly listens, and 10k–15k new episode listens (Podchaser).
- NEW ANGLE ON ADHD: This book gives ADHDers the tools for them to understand and build healthy friendships and relationships.
- PROVEN TRACK RECORD: Kristen's FOCUSED ADHD coaching program has served over 4,000 adults with ADHD in the last 5 years.
- CONNECTED AUTHOR: Kristen is connected to many leading ADHD experts: Dr. Russell Barkley, Dr. Ned Hallowell, Dr. Tamara Rosier, Dr. Russell Ramsey, Dr. Patricia Quinn, and more.
- PRESSWORTHY AUTHOR: Kristen has been featured on *Unf*ck Your Brain*, HBR's Women at Work, The Wonderful World of Different, Hacking Your ADHD, SuccessFUL with ADHD, and more.

THE BOOK

An empowering self-coaching guide to help ADHDers understand, repair, and build healthy relationships – with friends, romantic partners, family, and at work – from ADHD coach Kristen Carder, creator of the I Have ADHD podcast

The demands of relationships on the ADHD brain are taxing. You're a good person who wants to do right by people, but it seems that no matter how much you contort yourself, you're still not enough. And somehow, at the same time you're too much; too loud, too emotional, too impulsive, too messy, too everything.

In You're Not in Trouble, ADHD coach Kristen Carder dives into the five prominent relationships in our lives: friendships, romantic partnerships, parent-child relationships, family-of-origin relationships, and work relationships. She helps you understand ADHD's impact on your relationships and gives you simple, practical steps to improve them. Tailored for the ADHD brain, and using a trauma-informed approach, this is a gentle guide to strengthening your connection with others while helping you realize that you are finally enough.

THE AUTHOR

Kristen Carder was 21 years old when she was diagnosed with ADHD. She began working with students with ADHD in 2012 and went on to complete a general life coach certification in 2021 and a trauma-informed life coach certification in 2023. Kristen has completed 3 trauma-informed mental health conference trainings through Masters Events with giants such as Gabor Mate, Bessel van der Kolk, Peter Levine and Richard Schwartz. She lives and works in Pennsylvania in the US.

The Art of Science

A Visual Story of Scientific Discovery

Works of science can also be works of beauty

THE PITCH

- THE BEAUTY OF SCIENCE The story of scientific discovery told with artistry and imagination
- SCIENCE FOR VISUAL THINKERS Beautiful illustrations make this a science and natural history book for visual thinkers
- DEPTH AND INSIGHT Explanatory artworks and modern photography help explain the ideas behind the featured illustrations and the significance of the discoveries
- INCLUSIVE AND WIDE-RANGING Global sweep from early scientific enquiry to the present shows the full trajectory of scientific thought

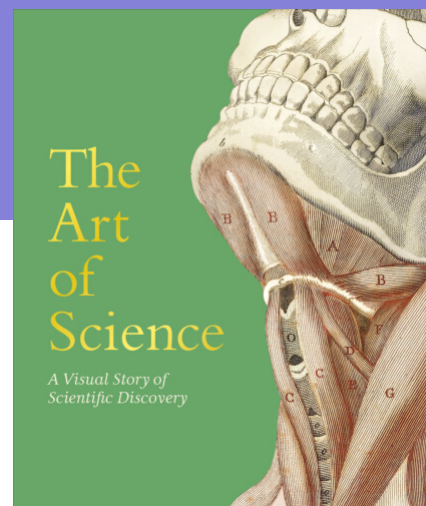

THE BOOK

Making images by hand has always been part of science. Throughout the long history of science, people have used illustrations to capture what they see and to communicate their ideas. That tradition is alive and well today.

The Art of Science draws on a wealth of beautiful science and natural history images from every major culture; from plants to the human body, and Earth science to astronomy and physics. They include drawings, prints, and engravings from landmark books such as Alexander von Humboldt's Kosmos and John James Audubon's Birds of America.

Incredible images record historic leaps forward in understanding – such as the first time cells and their nuclei were seen through a microscope or the Moon's craters were seen through a telescope. Modern artworks and photographs explain our current understanding of the ideas encapsulated in the artworks, showcasing where scientific understanding has moved on but also, incredibly, where it was exactly right.

The Art of Science is a visual history of scientific thought, showing that works of science can also be works of beauty.

Fashion, Annotated

Your Expert Guide to 400 of the World's Greatest Outfits

Your expertly curated guide to more than 400 outfits, garments, and styles through history and across the world

THE PITCH

- ULTIMATE WARDROBE: A beautiful curated showcase of more than 400 of the most important fashions ever created – throughout history and across the world – written and authenticated by an expert panel of more than 20 subject specialists and fashion historians
- FASCINATING ANALYSIS: Detailed annotation explains the key features of each piece, and explores everything from design and technique to materials and construction, interspersed with exquisite galleries of shoes, handbags, hats, and jewellery – from the iconic to the simply outrageous
- SUPERB REPRODUCTION: Packed with hundreds of images of the very highest quality
- POPULAR SUBJECT: DK's previous title Fashion has sold more than 350k copies worldwide

THE BOOK

Take a front-row seat at the catwalk and prepare to be dazzled by the most important and groundbreaking fashions of the last 4,000 years.

An extraordinary expert guided tour through fashion history, fashion, annotated features more than 400 key pieces, from the ancient world to the present day.

Discover the exquisite detail of 17th-century embroidery in detail. Find yourself blown away by the intricacies of a traditional kimono, learn the Mexican origins of classic American cowboy gear, and marvel at galleries of the most important styles of shoes and accessories down the centuries. Learn which came first: the sari or the shalwar kameez, and be mightily glad you don't need to squeeze yourself into a Victorian corset.

Organized chronologically, fashion, annotated profiles all of the major milestones of fashion history across the world. Expert annotation, analysis, and insights, from a panel of more than 25 specialist writers and consultants, highlight key details, including all of the key elements of each garment, and exploring design, technique, material, and structure. Lush photography and timeless artworks bring each piece to life on the page.

Beautiful, fascinating, and inspiring in turn, fashion, annotated is an essential gallery collection for your home, a design sourcebook, and an inspiration for your next outfit.

Dyslexia Explained

Your Toolkit to Understanding and Thriving

Dr Jacob Santhouse

Go from surviving to thriving with this practical guide for adults with dyslexia

THE PITCH

- Tools for everyday life: The practical strategies will help tackle real-world challenges, such as meeting deadlines, effective communication, managing life admin, and balancing parenting
- Reader-friendly: Designed for accessibility, with short summaries, visual explanations, and dyslexia-friendly fonts and colours to enhance readability
- Dyslexia is a major public conversation: Celebrities such as Jamie Oliver, Rob Beckett, Lake Bell, Idris Elba, Deon Butler, James Martin, Matt Baker, and JoJo Siwa have openly shared their experiences
- Focused on adults: With a growing number of adults being diagnosed in later life, there's a need for a compassionate guide that speaks directly to their experience

THE BOOK

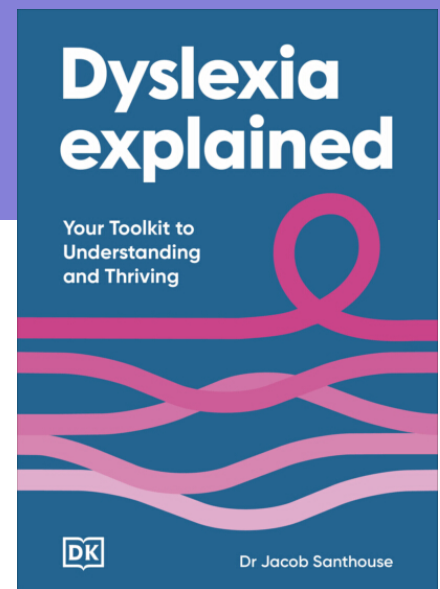

For years, people with dyslexia have been told they "can't" – this book is here to tell you that you can

Dyslexia is more than just a way of reading – it is a distinct way of thinking, feeling, and connecting. For many, the diagnosis raises questions: Does this limit my opportunities? Is it a superpower or a setback? What does it mean for my daily life?

Dr Jacob Santhouse, Clinical Professional Counsellor, goes beyond the label to explore how dyslexia shapes the adult experience. Drawing on the latest research, clinical practice, and his own personal journey, he shares his expert insight on how dyslexia affects health and wellbeing, relationships, parenting, careers, finances, and more. Whether you've recently been diagnosed or have struggled since childhood, this empowering guide provides simple, transformative strategies to help you understand your brain, unlock your potential, and overcome life's challenges with confidence.

THE AUTHOR

Dr Jacob Santhouse is a Clinical Professional Counselor and dyslexia coach. His mission is to support neurodiverse individuals by helping them overcome the obstacles they encounter and embrace their unique strengths. Having learned that he was dyslexic as a child, Dr Santhouse understands the challenges of navigating a world that often overlooks neurodivergent perspectives. He is passionate about educating others and bringing awareness to neurodiversity through his online channels.

A History of the Unexplained

An incredible guided tour of the world's most enduring mysteries and fascinating unexplained phenomena

THE PITCH

- BIGGER THAN BIGFOOT: Covers a vast array of unexplained phenomena – from “cryptids” and UFOs to paranormal activity, along with fascinating mysteries from history and those on the very fringes of scientific enquiry
- UNBIASED AND OPEN-MINDED: Offers readers a clear and accessible account of each mystery, combining extensive research with leading theories on them with the expert insights of a panel of writers and specialist consultant, Karl Shuker
- CAUGHT ON CAMERA: Packed with rare and intriguing photos and artefacts, alongside graphics and maps that bring the world's most enduring enigmas to life
- SERIES MAGIC: DK's Esoteric Histories – including A History of Magic...; A History of Ghosts...; and A History of Horror... have sold a combined 300k+ copies worldwide

THE BOOK

Have aliens already visited Earth? Who built Stonehenge and why? Could Bigfoot really exist? And what really happened aboard the Mary Celeste?

Written and authenticated by a panel of specialist writers and consultants, A History of the Unexplained explores these questions and many more, providing a comprehensive and impartial account of the world's most enduring mysteries – from Peru's Nazca lines and the Bermuda Triangle to out-of-body experiences and UFO encounters – with details of the history of each one and leading theories that have been proposed over time.

Fascinating and thought-provoking in equal measure, the book examines strange natural phenomena from ball lightning to creature storms, explores the potential existence of mysterious “cryptids” (animals not recognized by “mainstream science”), such as the Orang Pendek and Chupacabra, and examines a wide range of other intriguing subjects at the very margins of scientific enquiry, including telekinesis and the “Hollow Moon” theory.

Packed with incredible images and perfect for anyone with an enquiring mind, this essential book is the ultimate guide to the biggest mysteries of all time. It will challenge what you think you know about science and history – forever.

Dungeons & Dragons Encyclopedia

Discover the legendary monsters, characters, locations and more from D&D's iconic settings

THE PITCH

- FAN FAVOURITE IP D&D has been the most popular tabletop role-playing game for over four decades
- MASSIVE ENGAGEMENT The game has an active player base estimated at 17m in 2017, before the later rapid growth and media sprawl
- SCREEN STARS The Dungeon & Dragons movie made 200m at the box office, and a series is in development at Netflix
- MASS MEDIA It's a popular cultural touchstone, referenced in Community, Futurama, Rick & Morty, Stranger Things many more

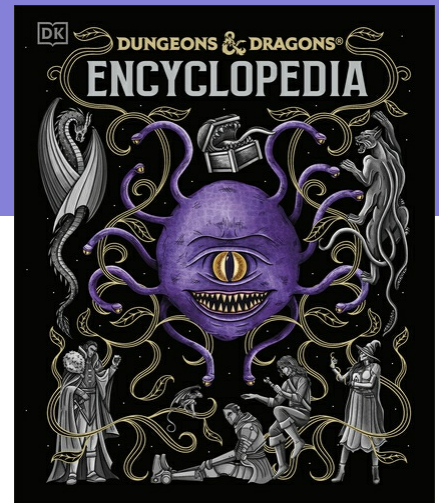

THE BOOK

Pack your Bag of Holding and get ready for an expansive, official tour through the myriad settings of the D&D multiverse.

From the familiar fantasy lands of the Forgotten Realms and Dragonlance to the broodingly gothic planes of Ravenloft and star-hopping voyages of Spelljammer, Dungeons & Dragons Encyclopedia will uncover every facet of the world's most popular tabletop role-playing game.

Every page is packed full of information on D&D's myriad settings, including the monsters that roam the realms and menace adventurers, legendary locations full of eventful histories, the heroes and villains that protect and plague the different dimensions, and the iconic items that enable the machinations of players, NPCs and big-bads.

For the first time ever in an official title, Wizards of the Coast has brought together more than half a dozen of its legendary settings - stretching all the way back to Greyhawk - to showcase the elements that make them unique, and Dungeons & Dragons the most diverse, exciting and unpredictable game in the world.

Star Wars Star Pilots

Chris Kempshall

An in-universe history of space battles and fighter pilots in the Star Wars galaxy, drawing on the movies, Disney+, video games and comics

THE PITCH

- UNIQUE VIEWPOINT Written in-universe by legendary rebel pilot (and fan favourite) Wedge Antilles, offering unique opportunities for brand new, exclusive storytelling.
- HUGE SCOPE George Lucas was heavily influenced by real-world air battles, and pilots have always been a key aspect of Star Wars; with content taken from movies, books, comics, and video games, this book will be the first all-encompassing account of this key aspect of the Star Wars galaxy
- PROVEN APPROACH Written in the same real-world style as Star Wars: The Rise and Fall of the Galactic Empire, which was published in July 2024 to overwhelmingly positive reviews and fan reactions
- TIMELY CONTENT Lucasfilm has made star pilots a key feature of their recent storytelling, as shown with the success of the Star Wars Squadrons video game, Resistance animated series, release of the popular Alphabet Squadron novels, and the upcoming Star Wars: Starfighter movie.

THE BOOK

Wedge Antilles – hero, warrior, star pilot. The only rebel to face two Death Stars and live to tell the tale.

Wedge confronted death countless times, in battles large and small, where split-second decisions often meant the difference between survival and a fiery demise.

Now, he tells his story, and those of the brave pilots he served with and elite enemies he fought against. Aided by unsealed archives from the New Republic, and unreleased interviews of Imperial and Alliance veterans, Antilles gives the definitive account of what it was to fight the Galactic Civil War from the cockpit of a starfighter.

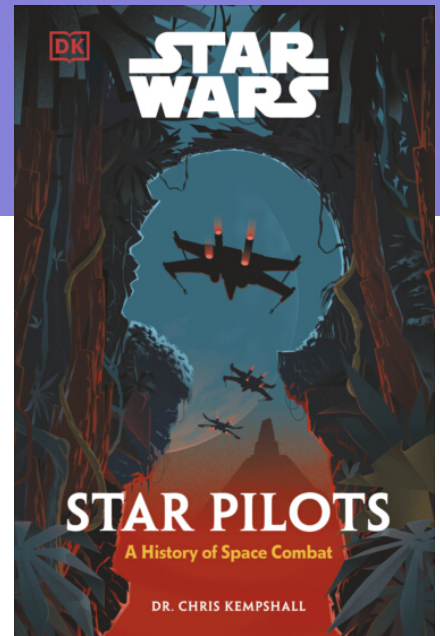

The ships, tactics, and weapons, but also the quiet times and camaraderie, the moments of fear and despair, the thrill of victory and the aching loss of friends. This is the untold story of the galaxy's star pilots.

THE AUTHOR

Dr. Chris Kempshall is a public historian and author who specialises in modern media representations of history. He has taught and lectured on war and European history at a wide assortment of universities and is currently the President for the International Society for First World War Studies and a Senior Research Fellow for the Centre for Army Leadership, Royal Military Academy Sandhurst.

He is the author of numerous academic works including; The First World War in Computer Games and British, French and American Relations on the Western Front, 1914–1918.

Along with Jason Fry, Cole Horton, and Amy Ratcliffe, he is the co-author of Star Wars: Battles that Changed the Galaxy (2021) published by DK. His latest book Star Wars: The Rise and Fall of the Galactic Empire, an in-universe

Warhammer 40,000 Words of Waaagh!

The Miniature Book of Ork Quotes

A book of quotes, sourced from various novels, games, comics and other media from the Warhammer 40,000 universe

THE PITCH

- UNIQUE OFFERING The book is packed with quotes sourced from decades of Warhammer publications, including books by New York Times/Sunday Times bestselling authors. There are no other Warhammer quote books on the market, besides our 2025 title, Warhammer 40,000: Words of War (October 2025)
- GREAT VALUE Available at a lower price than most Warhammer products, the book makes a perfect "Secret Santa" gift, impulse purchase, or stocking filler for a Warhammer fan
- COMPANION TITLE Second title in our Warhammer quote book series, following Warhammer 40,000: Words of War (October 2025). The two books will make a great pairing on any fan's shelf
- RICHLY ILLUSTRATED The quotes will be accompanied by striking imagery of models from the Warhammer 40,000 universe
- RICHLY ILLUSTRATED The quotes will be accompanied by striking imagery of models from the Warhammer 40,000 universe

THE BOOK

"We iz gonna stomp da ooniverse flat an' kill anyfing dat fights back. We iz gonna do dis 'coz we'z Orks, an' we woz made ta fight an' win!" - Grand Warlord Ghazghkull Mag Uruk Thraka

Worlds shake beneath iron-shod boots, engines roar across horizons, and the skies darken with dust thrown up by the passage of their endless numbers - an avalanche of muscle, tusks, blades, and guns.

Orks are single-minded in their desire for war, undoubtedly brutal, but also cunning. This collection of quotes provides an insight into the Ork psyche – utterly anarchic, savagely simplistic, and unremittingly violent.

Davey's Daydreams

Louise Gooding

This important story reframes daydreaming from a distraction to a cherished, unique source of brilliance for neurodiverse children

THE PITCH

- MEET DAVEY, THE DREAMER: Davey is the perfect friend for children who are often told to "sit still" or "pay attention". He helps them to feel understood, seen, and truly clever
- CELEBRATED AUTHOR: Wonderfully Wired Brains has sold more than 75,000 copies worldwide and has been nominated for several awards, including the ALCS Educational Writers' Award
- IMAGINATION BROUGHT TO LIFE: Vibrant and creative artwork from Irina Avgustinovich captures the magic of Davey's daydream adventures
- A CELEBRATION OF THE WANDERING MIND: This timely book joyfully celebrates daydreaming and fidgeting as a source of creativity and brilliance, offering a positive new perspective on neurodiversity

THE BOOK

Following the success of Wonderfully Wired Brains and Minna's Masks, Davey's Daydreams introduces a little boy with a vivid imagination. His daydreams aren't just flights of fancy; they are a key part of how he processes the world, and this heartwarming story celebrates these daydreams.

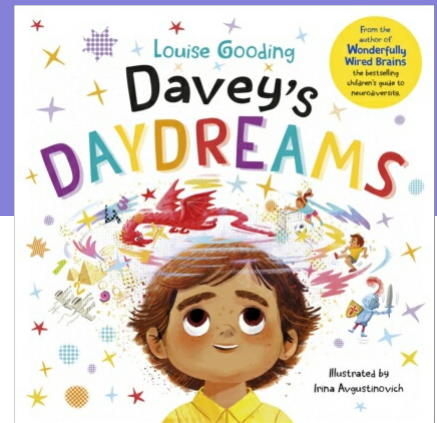

This narrative gently introduces daydreaming as a common trait in many neurodiverse children, indicating how it can be both a challenge and a strength. The story highlights how understanding and a channel for expression can help a child feel seen and appreciated for their unique mind. It's a validation for children who feel misunderstood because of their "fidgety" or "distracted" behaviour, and a resource for parents and educators. This book reframes daydreaming from a negative symptom into a creative outlet, and it encourages children to embrace their way of thinking, teaching others to appreciate the value of imagination.

Louise Gooding has also been shortlisted for several awards, including The Week Junior Book Awards and the ALCS Educational Writers' Award.

THE AUTHOR

Louise Gooding has a keen interest in sharing stories that feature characters that stand out, are different, and who have something to say. Inspired by stories from her own experiences and those of her family, she took up writing to find a way of discussing neurological and physical diversity, and how to explore other sensitive issues within children's books.

Irina Avgustinovich is a children's book illustrator from Belarus, now based in Portugal. Despite having a bachelor's degree in classical painting and ceramics, she found herself in children's illustration many years ago.

A Day In the Life of a Warrior

Travel Through Time With the Soldiers of History

Emily Hinsdale

An illustrated exploration of the lives of different warriors from history

THE PITCH

- RELATABLE HISTORY: Examines the lives of different warriors throughout the ages as a way to teach young readers about different civilizations and historical periods
- GLOBAL FOCUS: From the Roman centurion to the Japanese Samurai and Spartan Hoplites, the content is international and spans a range of time periods
- HIGHLIGHTS THE EVERYDAY: The book explains key details about what a warrior's life was like: what they ate, where they slept, how they trained, and what weapons they used
- FILLS A GAP IN THE MARKET: Most children's history books focus on civilizations, events, or major historical figures, as opposed to looking at the lives of everyday people

THE BOOK

From the dawn of time to the present day, warriors and soldiers have lived on the frontlines of history. But there's more to that history than epic battles and infamous leaders.

What was it really like for a warrior living through the Samurai shogunate or the rise of the Ottoman Empire? Beyond the textbook facts and theories, how did it feel to ride into battle with Genghis Khan or trek across England with Viking raiders? In this series, young readers are invited to join a warrior from a famous historical battle for a day in their life. What did they wear? What did they eat? How did they spend their time? What kind of weapons did they carry? How many of the warriors were women?

Unlike other book series on the market, budding 7 to 9 year old history buffs can get up close and personal with a warrior and learn all about him or her, from the serious to the silly and everything in between.

THE AUTHOR

THE PITCH

- TRENDING BOOK STYLE: Following the success of Charlie Mackesy, this book leverages the demand for books that feature heartfelt prose and explore universal themes of love, friendship, loneliness, courage and kindness
- PERFECT GIFT: This book wears many hats: it's a cosy read, a gentle guide for life's hurdles, and a meaningful keepsake
- PLENTY OF REREAD POTENTIAL: With beautiful illustrations to pore over and timeless wisdom, this book is a lifelong companion readers will never outgrow, and will stay a favourite long after the first read
- EXCITING AUTHOR AND ILLUSTRATOR: Auriol Bishop's lyrical prose perfectly captures what children are feeling, and sits alongside mesmerizing illustrations by award-winning illustrator Alice Courtley

THE BOOK

Join Bear, a lovable but lonely character, on his extraordinary journey to find the love of his life, the Moon.

After searching far and wide, up snow-dusted mountains, through raging rainstorms, and across a sparkling icy lake, he discovers that perhaps everything he needs is right under his huge bear nose.

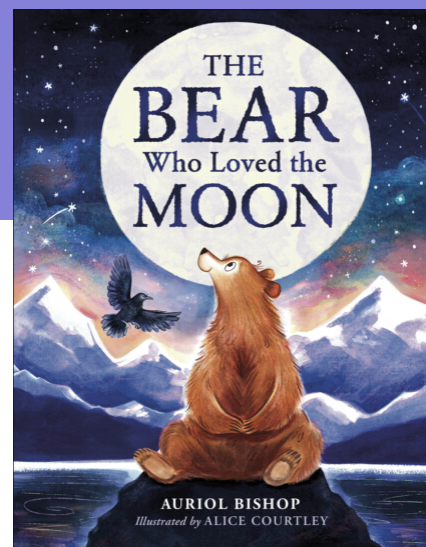

The Bear Who Loved the Moon is a beautiful tale of the journey to finding happiness and peace. It's a must read for children and adults feeling isolated and lost, showing them that light will always outweigh the dark, even when it's difficult to see the path ahead. In Bear, readers will find a companion, friend, and mentor who provides much-needed loyalty, love, and wisdom.

This winter fable makes for an enchanting bedtime story to lull little ones into a blissful sleep. Interwoven with entrancing illustrations by Alice Courtley, this book is the perfect gift for anyone seeking a little hope and comfort.

THE AUTHOR

Auriol Bishop grew up climbing trees and reading books, and now brings the same sense of imagination and love of nature to her writing. She worked for many years in book publishing and ran children's creative writing classes, before becoming an author. In both fiction and non-fiction, her enchanting books soothe, captivate, and encourage us to look for the beauty all around.

Alice Courtley is a graduate of the MA in Children's Book Illustration at Cambridge School of Art. Her work has been recognized for prizes such as the Klaus Flugge and Batsford Prize shortlist and has featured in exhibitions including the AOI's Inspired to Innovate exhibition in London.

Our Human Story

In 100 Amazing Achievements

Anna Ploszajski

A celebration of the greatest human achievements through science, culture, technology, and all the fascinating bits in between

THE PITCH

- ORIGINAL AND AMBITIOUS APPROACH TO CHILDREN'S NON-FICTION: covering the greatest achievements science, history, politics, art, culture, and more, this transcends traditional encyclopedias
- INCLUSIVE WIDE-RANGING CONTENT: Features both iconic achievements and easy-to-miss fundamentals (like jokes, glass, and zips!)
- CHARISMATIC MEDIA-SAVVY AUTHOR: Anna has proven reach and a strong voice
- BOLD, FRESH DESIGN AND HIGH VISUAL IMPACT: Perfect for gifting and classrooms

THE BOOK

Join charismatic scientist Anna Ploszajski (expert consultant for DK title What's it Made Of?) as she weaves 100 stories that reveal the essence of human achievement.

From organizing ourselves into societies, with justice, education, and governments of many types, to creating art and music that can move us to tears, humans never stop experimenting. We have storytelling and humour; we have learned to build rockets and iPhones, bridges and skyscrapers. Our Human Story is a joyous celebration of everything that makes us amazing.

This ambitious book transcends traditional encyclopedias to celebrate our obvious achievements as well as the everyday miracles kids may well take for granted.

THE AUTHOR

Dr Anna Ploszajski is an award-winning materials scientist, writer, presenter, trumpeter, English Channel swimmer, feminist, knitter, walker and dog mum, originally from Bedford, now settled in Walthamstow, East London. She's a materials generalist; equally fascinated by merino wool as stainless steel, and the stories that these materials tell about us. Her ability to enthuse so publicly about our wonderful material world saw her made a Fellow of the Institute of Materials, Minerals and Mining in 2022, one of its youngest ever. As an author, Anna's debut popular science book for adults, Handmade: A Scientist's Search for Meaning Through Making was published by Bloomsbury Sigma in 2021, and she's contributed to books for younger readers with DK; What's It Made Of? (2025) and First Flight (2026). She can frequently be found on radio, stage and telly, or delivering workshops on storytelling to other scientists and engineers through her business, Storyology Ltd. Oh, and it's pronounced "Por-shy-ski".

Secrets of History Revealed

Incredible Stories of How We Rediscovered Our Past

Matt Ralphs

Enjoy the wonder of rediscovery with this beautiful investigation of ancient objects and places for children aged 9+

THE PITCH

- TREASURED GIFT This is a large book with beautiful jacket finishes, large photographs, and illustrations that make it instantly desirable and would make a perfect gift
- HUGE SCOPE 32 items and places are arranged chronologically, ranging from human fossils that are more than 3 million years old to the 12th century Lewis Chessmen
- GRIPPING STORIES Each item has both its gripping tale of rediscovery told as well as the story it can tell us about the people who made it
- EXCITING AUTHOR Matt Ralphs is an award-winning author with a focus on myths, folklore, and history, including the well-loved Norse Myths for DK

THE BOOK

Through adventure and luck, we have unearthed many objects and places that reveal the story of our past, and this treasury for children is filled with some of the most fascinating.

On an autumn day in 1940, four boys explored a tunnel that their dog had gone into. They had no idea that they had entered the Lascaux Caves, a network of chambers covered in cave art from 17,000 years ago. This is just one of countless tales of rediscovery that have given us glimpses of ancient history. In this stunning book, 32 of the most surprising and beautiful artefacts from around the world are displayed photographically, and brought to life with colourful illustrations. Whether it's an Ancient Egyptian throne or an archer from China's Terracotta Army, author Matt Ralphs brings the excitement and intrigue of how each item was recovered and what it can tell us about the lives of the people who made it.

For any child who loves the story of history, The Secrets of History Revealed is the gift they didn't know they wanted.

THE AUTHOR

Matt Ralphs is an award-winning author of fiction and non-fiction books for children. Credits include Norse Myths, Secrets of History Revealed, Season of the Witch, Beasts from the Deep and more. He is based in the UK

Against the Odds Titanic

Decodable tales of survival against the odds for striving readers aged 10–14

THE PITCH

- DECODABLE HI-LO READERS: Designed to engage striving readers aged 10 and above, the carefully structured text makes the story accessible and sets us apart from other Hi-Lo books
- BOOSTS SPELLING AND COMPREHENSION: A focus on prefixes, suffixes, and word roots enhances readers' decoding, spelling, and vocabulary
- ENGAGING STORYLINES: The stories in the Against the Odds series follow historical fiction narratives - inspired by true events - to engage and motivate reluctant readers
- ACCESSIBLE FONT: The font in this book is specifically selected to reduce visual stress

THE BOOK

It's a cold night on the Atlantic Ocean. An exciting journey on the grandest ship in the world turns into chaos when the ship hits an iceberg. How will Agnes survive the ship's plunge under the icy waves? And will she be able to save her younger brother and sister, too?

This book is part of the Against the Odds series, a captivating series of fictional - but inspired by true events - Hi-Lo chapter books tailored for striving readers aged 10–14. Each title in this collection unravels the extraordinary experiences of young people overcoming incredible challenges. Whether it's facing the unknown or triumphing against the odds, these stories are both riveting and inspiring.

The series is carefully written with a focus on morphology, which is hugely important for improving spelling and reading comprehension. Against the Odds: Titanic focuses on suffixes with common spelling changes.

With font specifically selected to reduce visual stress, this book serves as a vital bridge between decodable and mainstream books, empowering all learners to become fluent independent readers.

THE AUTHOR

Eleanor Cardell (author)

Eleanor Cardell grew up in sunny California and graduated from UC Davis with a degree in English. Now she lives in the rainy Pacific Northwest, where she enjoys spending warm days outside hiking and cold days inside researching and writing books. She has written three books in the Against the Odds series: Pompeii, Hurricane Katrina, and Titanic. When she's not writing or hiking she loves to curl up with a good book, a fluffy blanket, and her two cats.

THE BOOK

The heart-warming genius of bestselling cartoonist Jeffrey Brown meets the unlimited creativity of LEGO play in this awesome new adventure for comic fiction fans aged 7+

Imagine a world where technology has been lost and people have forgotten how to build...

Nikolas Nurdblok is the youngest child in a family of adventurers who search for lost things. Now it is time for Nik to join the rest of his family for his FIRST ADVENTURE.

The problem is that Nik's family don't appreciate his genius. After a couple of mishaps that definitely weren't Nik's fault, his family set off to find a legendary LOST BRICK but leave him at home.

Nik decides he's going anyway. His mum and dad didn't say he couldn't go - they just said he couldn't go with them. And so, Nik and his loyal best friend Knute embark on an adventure that will (probably) change the world. OBVIOUSLY Nik can find the lost brick by himself and doesn't need anyone else there ... or does he?

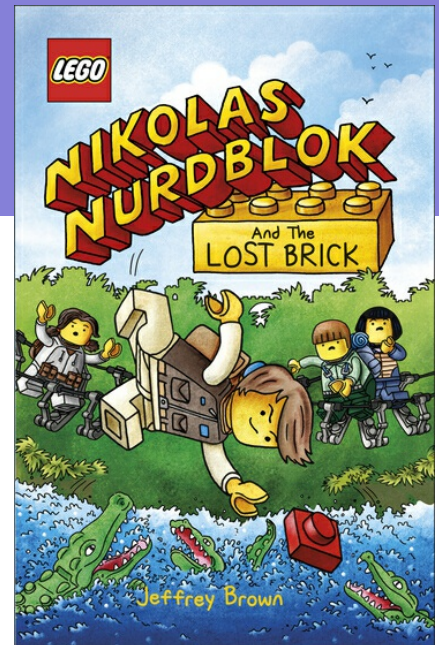

A highly illustrated adventure full of laugh-out-loud moments, creative building, and the occasional alligator, Nikolas Nurdblok and the Lost Brick is perfect for fans of Diary of a Wimpy Kid, Dog Man and The 13-Storey Treehouse.

Jeffrey Brown is the New York Times-bestselling author/illustrator of Star Wars Jedi Academy, Darth Vader and Son and Marvel's Hulk Teach.

Ozora Tsubasa loves his school in Nankatsu, where every student is as obsessed with soccer as he is! They all dream of playing for Japan in the Fifa World Cup.

Nankatsu have battled through to the semi-finals of the national tournament. Now they're facing Musashi and their talented captain, Jun Misugi.

When Jun's fantastic goal gives his team the edge, it seems all hope is lost. Can Tsubasa stage a counter-attack and lead his team to victory... with just two minutes left on the clock?

The must-have series for fans of fast-paced graphic novels and football stories like T. Z. Layton's The Academy!

Have you read the whole series?

Counting Penguins

How a Penguin Colony Stole My Heart and Changed My Life

Peter John Watson

Reflections on a life-changing three months at the edge of Antarctica

THE PITCH

- HEARTWARMING NARRATIVE: Charts a life-changing three months at the world's loneliest job, showing how life among animals and living in remote environments can alter our perspectives
- RARE FIRST-HAND ACCOUNT: Only a handful of people are chosen to work at Port Lockroy every year, uniquely positioning Peter to write this book
- MOVING MEMOIR: Readers of Raising Hare and Wayfarer, and viewers of documentaries like Frozen Planet, will love Peter's reflections on what nature and adventure can teach us
- AUTHOR EXPERTISE: Peter is an adventure travel writer whose work has featured in The Guardian, BBC Travel and National Geographic among others, and his blog Atlas & Boots is read by 150,000 per month

THE BOOK

At 64° South, on a tiny Antarctic island bustling with penguins, even the smallest lives leave a mark.

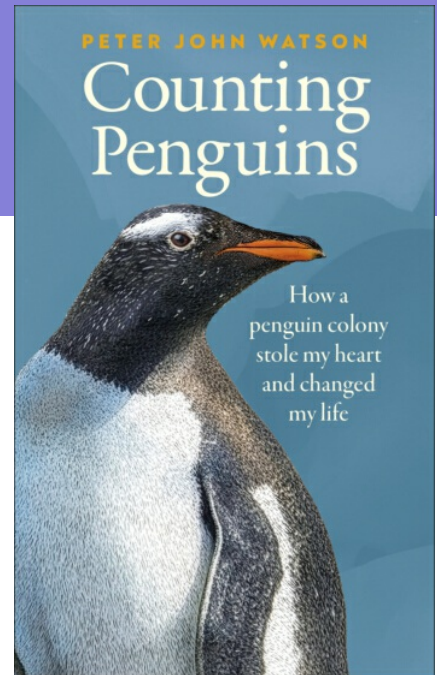

Welcome to Port Lockroy – the world's southernmost post office, a tiny outpost on a football-pitch-sized island off the Antarctic Peninsula, shared by a handful of humans and a thousand curious gentoo penguins.

When travel writer Peter John Watson boards a ship bound for Antarctica, he has no idea how deeply life at the end of the world will change him. Between long shifts counting penguin chicks, welcoming passing cruise ships and sorting mail, he discovers a whimsical world where climate science, storied heritage and captivating wildlife converge in one of the most inhospitable places on earth.

As the gentoos shed their feathers and Peter prepares to leave before winter closes in, Counting Penguins becomes a tender meditation on isolation and hope – a reminder that even in the coldest corners, small acts of care can ripple far and wide.

THE AUTHOR

Peter John Watson is an adventure travel writer and founder of outdoor travel blog Atlas & Boots. His work has featured in The Guardian and National Geographic, among others. In 2023, he joined the UK Antarctic Heritage Trust, a charity responsible for maintaining British heritage on the Antarctic Peninsula, including the southernmost post office at Port Lockroy. In 2025, Peter was selected to join the Port Lockroy team as a wildlife monitor for three months.

Best of Ireland

An Insider Guide to the Real Ireland

Cassie Stokes

The only book you need to enjoy unforgettable Irish adventures

THE PITCH

- CURATED RECOMMENDATIONS: Features over 500 spots and experiences across themed “best of” lists, from quirky pubs to beaches, that take travellers to top-rated food, outdoor activities and cultural experiences
- INSPIRING IDEAS: Covers both the north and south of Ireland, with 7 itineraries that bring Cassie’s recommendations together for easy planning
- TRUSTED VOICE, BIG FOLLOWING: Cassie Stokes has over 300k followers across Instagram and TikTok, with fans loving her local recommendations that go beyond the tourist trail
- SPOTLIGHTS A POPULAR DESTINATION: Ireland welcomed over 6.6 million overseas visits in 2024, up 5% from 2023; domestic trips by the Irish went up 8.2% in 2024 vs 2023 (Source: Tourism Ireland, 2025)

THE BOOK

To experience Ireland at its very best, you need Cassie Stokes.

As the host of the hugely popular Best of Ireland series, Cassie has spent years travelling Ireland on a mission to find the ultimate pubs, restaurants, hiking trails and hidden gems. Now, for the first time, she’s sharing her insider secrets and favourite spots in one beautiful celebration of her home country. From the local haunts she can’t get enough of to the locations that take her breath away, this is Ireland through the eyes of someone who knows and loves it deeply. Inside Best of Ireland, you’ll discover:

- Over 500 recommendations to add to your Ireland bucket list, all handpicked, tried and tested by Cassie herself
- Themed “best of” lists, including old-school pubs, Irish whiskey spots, music festivals, castles, pizza joints and hotels
- Ideas for all 32 counties throughout Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland, across dedicated chapters covering for Pubs, Food, Drinking Spots, Culture and the Outdoors
- Ready-to-go itineraries that bring Cassie’s recommendations together for easy planning, from a quick weekend escape to Dublin to a 10-day west coast road trip
- Gorgeous photography, making it the perfect gift for someone looking for an inspiring Ireland travel guide or a keepsake book about Ireland

Whether you have a weekend or two weeks to explore, Best of Ireland is all the inspiration you need to have the ultimate Irish adventure.

THE AUTHOR

A former broadcaster, Cassie Stokes is one of Ireland’s top content creators today. She’s best known for her online series, “Best Of”, which sees her travel all around Ireland looking for the best places to eat, drink and more.
